

Multi-tasking ensures maximum efficiency

There's a lot to do in boarding. You have a lot of students to care for, a lot of things happening at any moment in a day.

Juggling multiple tasks at any time is what boarding staff do. You have to in order to work efficiently and meet the heavy workload.

It's an odd contradiction if what should be your greatest efficiency tool, your boarding school software, restricts you to working on only one task at a time. That's why at REACH we developed the ability for users to multi-task.

With REACH you can open as many different workspaces as you want. Your open workspaces will sit at the top of your REACH dashboard and each workspace will update to maintain their real-time presence as you make changes in other workspaces on REACH.

You can switch seamlessly between any of your workspace tabs and work on multiple activities simultaneously.

You may have a dorm roll-call in one tab, a student profile being updated in another, checking a student medical report in another tab, your sign out kiosk in another, your daily campus movements in another there is no restriction to any workspaces that can be open.

Eliminating your paperwork overload is just the beginning of the efficiency benefits your school can gain from REACH. Multi-tasking your daily workload provides a multiplier effect for the efficiency benefits that you can expect when using REACH at your boarding school.
